THE NINETEEN HUNDRED

A GRAPHIC RECORD OF THE YEAR

ENNA

ED AND THIRTY-FIVE

AT OHIO UNIVERSITY ATHENS OHIO

FOREWORD

Any orderly sequence of familiar scenes and stories must necessarily become trite after many years of publication. The Athena of nineteen hundred thirty-five does not hope to present here something entirely new and different. It strives only to review for you the events of the year in a logical and interesting manner. The book is simple in tone and style. Its divisions follow the natural order of the school year, autumn, winter and spring, under which are grouped the logical happenings of the season. To facilitate reading information about campus organizations, and to create more interest in student life, the policy of a minimum of type and a maximum of photography has been followed. An informal theme has been carried out in the generous use of white space, and an abundance of student-life snapshots. To portray more effectively the scope of the University, the book has been materially increased in size. It is a distinct departure, in many places, from the examples set by past Athenas, but it is the hope of the Editor and the Business Manager that these departures will be well received by the student body.

DEDICATION

When Dr. Elmer Burritt Bryan, late president of Ohio University, died on October 15, he was mourned by friends throughout the nation. Probably his loss was felt most keenly by those who knew him here on the campus. His thoughts were ever concerned with the students and the future of the University, and not with Elmer Burritt Bryan. He did not consider college as just a place where the student learned how to make a living, but rather where he was to learn how to live, and he kept that idea foremost.

SECTION NUMBER ONE

AUTUMN

THE BACK ENTRY WAY

TO THE CENTERS OF LEARNING

*O*LD EWING, the administrative overlord of the campus . . . Fine Arts friendly doorway . . . The Fountain, once said to be, "where pigeons and students drink daily", but now just a student meeting place . . . Ohio women get a build-up here . . . another view of Fine Arts.

THE following paragraphs are extracts from the tribute to President E. B. Bryan by Dean E. W. Chubb at the funeral service held in the Memorial Auditorium on October 18, 1934:

"The gift that President Bryan gave Ohio University is above the price of rubies. It is the gift of a vigorous, rare, lovable personality. I shall not call it a memory; it is a vital, beautiful force that moves and lives and has its immortal being here and now.

"No president of any college or university from the days of Mark Hopkins of Williams to the present has been more respected and beloved by students and faculty than has President Bryan. I make that unequivocal statement without fear of contradiction.

"Where can we find the secret of this great power? In the first place, he had an alert, comprehensive mind. He was quick to grasp the essentials of the problem presented. He understood human nature. Quicker than any one I know, he could detect the weaknesses and foibles of a man, as well as appraise his power and strength.

"Then, too, he had a genius for friendship; a genuine sincerity that expressed itself in a love of mankind. He impressed a stranger with his friendliness. No one left his presence as a stranger. Little children believed he was their especial friend, for he knew each one by name. He had the greatest ability to remember people and their names. At a convention at which people would be gathered from all parts of the country, he was always the center of a group, and as additions were made to the group he could call each newcomer by name. He had one unusual but lovely fault: he exaggerated the virtues and accomplishments of his friends. But we loved him for it, for we felt his sincerity. When he appeared before the finance committee of the legislature he was successful because the members had great faith in his sincerity.

"A third fine quality was his generosity, his sympathetic attitude. I never knew a man who seemed to take responsibility more easily.

"'That country is fairest which is inhabited by the noblest minds.' Ohio University and the State of Ohio are fairer, because after years of absence this radiant personality returned to his native state to live the last fourteen years with us."

ACTING PRESIDENT

EDWIN WATTS CHUBB

*F*OR the second time in the history of Ohio University an Acting President has been appointed, and for the second time Dean Edwin Watts Chubb has been named to this position. He is personally interested in student problems and is a kindly advisor. Always good natured, he sees the humor in every situation. To him the saddest time of year is Commencement because so many students with whom he has been in close association for four years are leaving. Dean Chubb organized the English Club in 1900. Through his efforts the Poetry Society, a branch of the English Club, became a charter member of the College Poetry Society of America. Besides being a member of Phi Beta Kappa, an author and lecturer, he is an ardent golfer, having won the Faculty Club championship three years ago.

THE DEANS

IRMA ELIZABETH VOIGT came to Ohio University as the first Dean of Women in 1913. She is sponsor of Y.W.C.A., wise leader of Women's League, and the sympathetic adviser and inspiration of all university women.

JOHN R. JOHNSTON has been Dean of Men for the past six years. He has won the confidence of students and co-workers by his deep understanding and sympathy. He is a popular speaker on the campus, and may often be found addressing a dinner group at one of the fraternity houses, or presiding at a banquet.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

IS THERE a future for the College of Liberal Arts?" We may well ask this question as we approach the end of this year of economic and social revolution. The answer is closely bound up with the future of democracy, which itself is based upon the Jeffersonian belief in the possibilities of the man who starts his career without wealth, family connections, or any stepping stone to position, except ability and character. If the opportunity for free and individual development is to be denied the born leaders of democracy, the colleges of liberal arts and democracy will alike perish from America. No believer in democracy can look calmly upon the possible regimentation of its youth into any system that limits the spirit of intellectual adventure that has marked the best of colleges. The college must keep abreast of the flow of human thought, but it must not be swallowed by a system, for slavery to a system would mark the end of organized education as a vital element in human progress, and as yet, we have nothing to take its place. Whatever theories one may have in regard to the purpose of a college education, he is likely to agree that in an atmosphere of intellectual freedom college life should prepare "for effective participation as a responsible adult in the world in which he lives, and for going on with the task of self-understanding, self-government, and self-development that is to come." The student is advised to defer specializing until after he has had two years of college life. Thus by arranging the studies in four groups and by requiring a minimum from each group, it is hoped that the danger of narrowness of culture has been avoided; while by requiring a maximum in one group it is expected that the student will have opportunity to develop power by intensive study of closely related subjects. The aim of a College of Liberal Arts is to give one "an intellectual grasp on human experience."

DEAN EDWIN WATTS CHUBB

SINCE 1907 Edwin Watts Chubb has been Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. Consistently throughout his long term of service, he has been the advocate of high standards of scholarship, and he has contributed as much or more to the academic standards of Ohio than any other man. Twenty-seven years ago, sensing the needs of students, he established the Alumni Loan Fund. It was made possible by his solicitation of contributions from friends and alumni of the University. He has been signally honored by having a permanent memorial erected during his life-time. To this genial, broad-minded, accomplished Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, we pay tribute.

THE MAJOR function of the College of Education of Ohio University with reference to teacher training is two-fold: guidance and preparation. In the preparation of teachers the College depends largely on the subject-matter departments of the other divisions of the University, articulating the work of these departments for the needs of the prospective teachers and supplementing their efforts with appropriate courses of a professional nature, and actual student teaching in the city schools, Mechanicsburg, and the Plains. In performing the guidance function the College attempts to represent the interests of the prospective teachers in all departments of the University. While other divisions enroll students who expect to teach, the College of Education is vested with the responsibility for leadership in the University's training program, a responsibility which involves the continuous study of problems of placement and of improved articulation between college preparation and work in the field.

DEAN THOMAS C. McCRACKEN

THOMAS C. McCRACKEN has been Dean of the College of Education since 1922. He is a capable administrator and an understanding student advisor. In addition to his duties as Dean he is counsel for Kappa Delta Pi. He is a nationally-known figure in the field of education and during his term of office the College of Education has increased in size and has received numerous citations on its excellence. He is responsible for having begun Ohio University's Bureau of Appointments. He started the Bureau ten years ago for education graduates only. Five years ago it was enlarged to include all the graduates. The Bureau tries to place students in permanent rather than in temporary positions.

*H*ERE they are, Ohio's most popular professors. They were the students' choice in the contest recently sponsored by the Athena. First on the list comes "Sid" Beckert, the faculty "Walter Winchell" and selected as most popular of the most popular since he polled the most votes . . . The genial gentleman beside him is Doctor Hiram Roy Wilson, beloved by the students for his kindness and understanding. No student should leave the University without having had a class under him . . . Coming up is "Mac" Mackinnon, the jovial teller of tall stories and possessor of a real "Santa Claus" twinkle when he smiles. Incidentally, he polled most of the women's votes . . . "Doc" Ash, the Bobcats' most enthusiastic follower, and famous now for his "hey, hey" retort . . . Victor Whitehouse has three outstanding attributes—can make a language class interesting, is a really funny humorist, and can "get away" with practical jokes even when they are on the Deans . . . And bringing up the parade of popularity is Louis M. Heil, the man with the iron grip and the verra, verra charming personality . . . They are representative of the faculty as a whole because of their good fellowship and understanding of student problems.

MEN'S ATHLETICS

*M*UCH praise is due O. C. Bird, director of athletics at Ohio University, for his untiring efforts to place athletic teams of national reputation on the schedules of the University along with the regular Buckeye Conference events. In rounding out a vigorous assortment of sports for the Physical Education Department many new sports have been added to the curricula during the current year. The "hobby" classes inaugurated by B. C. Hughes have attained rapid success. Many men now find a great deal of pleasure at such "hobby" sports as: wrestling, volleyball, archery, ping-pong, horseback riding, and various others. This innovation has given a greater number of men a better opportunity to spend leisure time with some healthy form of exercise. An even greater expansion in this direction is expected next year. Due to a revival of interest, next year's plans also include a full card of contests in the minor sports, including wrestling, tennis and golf. Intramurals at Ohio University have reached a high peak due to the fine cooperation of a staff under the supervision of O. C. Bird. The Stadium, center of southeastern Ohio athletic contests, is a realized dream of O. C. Bird. The Ohio stadium, second to none in this section, is capable of seating fourteen thousand people, and is so built that an addition may be added at any time to complete the horseshoe and thereby seat ten thousand more spectators.

Director O. C. Bird

A PLOT FOR VICTORY

Grover. Peden. Trautwein

THE coaching staff under the direction of head coach Don C. Peden has brought national fame to Ohio University by its impressive work of the past few seasons. The credit for turning out strong forward walls goes to W. J. "Dutch" Trautwein and many stellar linemen have been produced under his tutelage. B. T. "Butch" Grover capably fills his post as end-coach and chief scout for the squad. Preparing raw freshmen for varsity competition is the arduous task of W. H. "Bill" Herbert and his assistant, J. P. "Joe" Trepp. To them come the green men that must be cut and polished. Thor Olson, "King" of trainers with his corps of helpers serves all sports. To him report "crockeries" who must be mended. Don C. Peden, head football coach for eleven years and developer of the Ohio fighting spirit is the team's guiding light. It was in '24 that opponents became aware of an Ohio team, always strong, and never to be taken lightly. Since that time, Ohio teams have climbed high on their ladder of fame. It was in nineteen twenty-nine that Ohio won the Buckeye conference undefeated and almost unscored upon. This feat was repeated in both 1930 and in 1931. In 1933 the supreme height of worthy achievement was reached when Ohio defeated the Navy eleven 14-0. The efforts of the entire staff under Peden's leadership have made Ohio elevens a worthy foe for any opponent. Here's to an undefeated 1935 Ohio team.

FOOTBALL

A POTENTIALLY great eleven was hailed by the students when a squad of hefty sophomores, along with the veterans of proved strength, returned to begin the fall campaign. The expected power was displayed only on rare occasions, resulting in a disastrous season for the Bobcats. In the Rio Grande and Georgetown contests the Ohio offense clicked to amass a total of over ninety points. At Bloomington, Indiana, an inspired "Hoosier" eleven, playing its initial game under "Bo" McMillan ran roughshod over the Pedenmen in a weird battle played in a field of mud. In their trek to Parkersburg, Ohio presented a sterling defense for fifty-nine minutes to throw back the strong West Virginia eleven time after time, blocking two kicks and a pass for a total loss of ninety yards, but weakening to allow a drive of four plays to score on them. The Bobcats in their encounters with the other strong Buckeye teams were unable to pierce their lines with the exception of Marshall, when Ohio scored its "high" Buckeye total of eight points. It was against Marshall the Ohio men tore off large gains in the middle of the field; but fumbled or failed to make first down when in the shadow of the goal posts. A blocked kick in the closing seconds netted Miami its winning points. The Homecoming crowd watched Cincinnati and Ohio battle to a scoreless tie and during the half enjoyed Ohio's spectacular band. Ohio Wesleyan, traditional enemy of Ohio, trounced the Pedenmen in the season's finale at Delaware. During the past season, several men showed enough ability to warrant good prospects for next year. Wendell Diehl, sophomore halfback, showed splendid ability in open field running and especially in the running back of punts; other sophomores include: Dunn at fullback, Irelan and Rich at ends. Lewis and Priode were outstanding among the veterans, standing as "bulwarks" in the line, while Halleck at fullback was a "Goliath" in the backfield. Injuries prevented Stephan and Wills from active participation in many of the games.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

THE "Before and After" Department of the University where unsightly pounds are removed and hairpin spines are straightened. For two years athletics are a part of every Ohio woman's schedule, and she spends them engaged in events ranging from swimming to interpretive dancing. In the fall, hockey, tennis, archery, and floor work are on the athletic calendar, followed in the winter by basketball, swimming, dancing, volleyball, and ping-pong. In the spring, track, baseball, and tennis are offered. These are supplemented by resting classes for those unable to participate in active sports, and corrective classes for those with poor posture. Advantages are to be gained from a stronger body and the ability to cooperate in teamwork, and the hope of the department is that every girl leaving it will have secured both of them. Closely tied in with the regular departmental work is the Women's Aquatic Club, better known as O.A.C. It was organized ten years ago to foster the spirit of play, good fellowship, good sportsmanship, and courtesy in these activities at Ohio University. Tryouts for membership are competitive, open to all women in the University and are held at the beginning of each semester. Another prominent organization is the Women's Athletics Association, known as W.A.A. The purpose of this group is to cooperate with the Department in fostering true sportsmanship and in furthering interest in athletics by providing wholesome recreational activities. All women of the University are associate members but to be a member one must participate in a season of W.A.A. activities. An outstanding feature group is the Studio Club, or Dance Club. This organization is composed of both Junior and Senior Studio groups. They are trained by Miss Alexander and are responsible for the impressive Dance Drama given each year for Mothers' Week-end. Miss Sarah Hatcher is the capable head of Women's Athletics and she is ably assisted by the coaches pictured on the following page.

Spencer, Mee, Hatcher, La Tourrette.

OUR FATE IS IN YOUR HANDS

THE council of war pictured above regulates the affairs in the Women's Athletic Department. The work is divided so that each one of them has a specific part over which to keep an eagle eye. Building improvements and schedules are in the hands of Miss Hatcher, head of the department. Miss Spencer is kept busy with sorority intramurals, her swimming and gym classes and Ohio Aquatic Club, of which she is director. Miss LaTourrette arranges game schedules and encourages the formation of teams for intramurals. Miss Mee has the task of making both shoulders the same height and of conducting the resting classes. She is also in charge of Women's Athletic Association. Last, but tritely enough, not least, Miss Alexander, whose interpretive classes achieve unusual and lovely results by twisting the girls into doughnut and pretzel effects and back again. She also has charge of Junior and Senior Studio Club groups and is the faculty adviser for Phi Delta Pi, the honorary physical education fraternity for women. Athletic development does much in the education of that student who is the most desirable type of citizen. It teaches them to play fair; to think clearly; to play the game of life to make it fuller and better for them. When the time comes for them to take their places in the world outside the college campus they are ready to meet the demands of modern life, both physically and mentally, and are prepared to "carry on".

WOMEN'S FALL

*T*HE warm fall climate of Athens permits of late participation in outdoor activities. In the first picture we see Doris March ready to take her adversary completely off-guard with a quick rush to the net. Her neighbor is set for a driving service. Below, the friendly meeting at the end of the match to keep them from harboring any ill or otherwise feelings—The concrete courts find the women equal to faster play.

INTRAMURALS

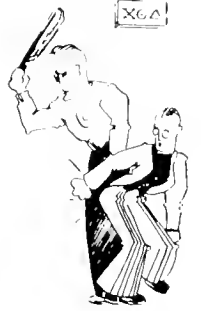

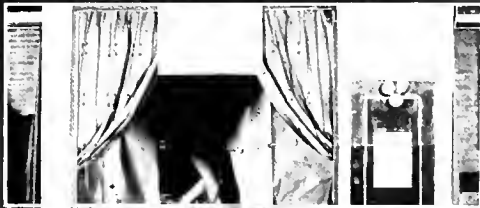

THE girls in the interpretive dancing classes were twisted into such extraordinary poses that the staff photographer was unable to obtain a satisfactory picture. It was necessary to use this Studio Club view to show the ultimate effect obtained. The next stances portray the face-off, which vaguely describes a series of swings with a hockey stick. Hockey has become one of the most popular sports among the gym classes and intramural contestants and the turnouts have been splendid.

BASKETBALL

*B*RANDON T. GROVER'S varsity basketball five, despite its ability to locate the hoop with a creditable frequency, compiled an unimpressive record for the 1934-1935 season. In the early games, along with those of mid-season, Ohio amassed a large total of points, only to let their defense fall to pieces and to allow a large number of points be scored against them. The record for the year revealed a total of eleven victories, while the number of defeats was recorded at nine. The Ohio defense was ragged and the natural result was a team which was never able to capitalize fully on its scoring power. Gifted with a combination of several large men and enough speedsters to produce a well-rounded quintet, it appeared for a time, early in the season, that the Green and White was on the road to a successful campaign.

The bright spot of the year was the playing of Bernard "Beanie" Berens, stellar pivot-man who was named on the mythical All-Buckeye and All-Ohio fives. Berens rang up 287 points in 20 games to set a high scoring mark for Ohio. Aside from this, the elongated tip-off man amassed 736 points in three years of varsity competition. He broke his own scoring mark for a single season in the Buckeye Conference.

A TENSE MOMENT IN THE FIGHT

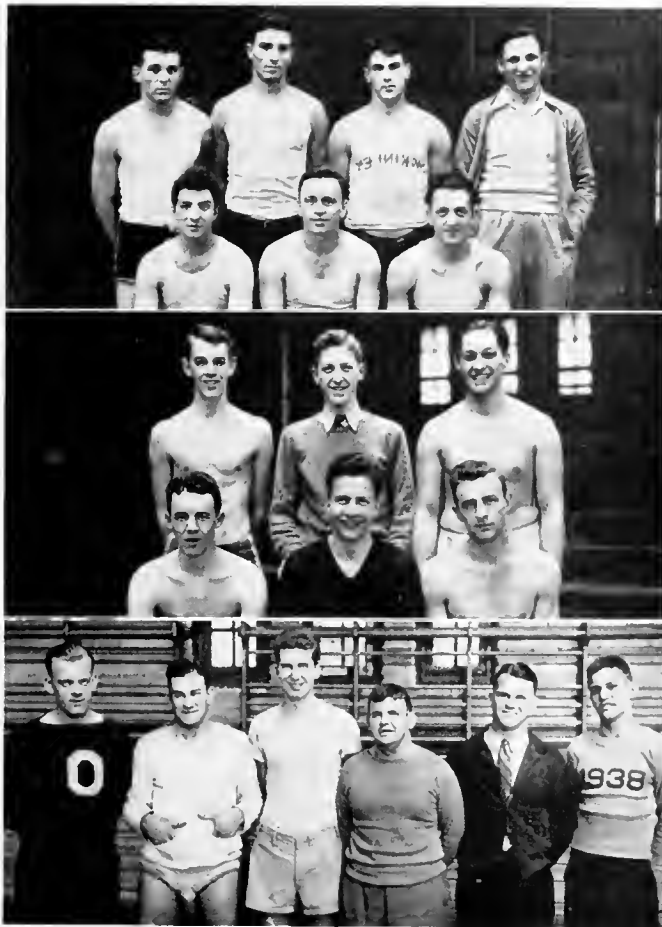

FALL INTRAMURALS

Top to Bottom: Independents, Beta Theta Pi.

IN the fall, softball is the one and only intramural sport and therefore receives a great deal of attention. While the footballers practice over behind the stadium, six softball games are being played at the same time, and as soon as their hour is up, twelve more teams take the field. These teams meet night after night until at the end of the season there is a winner in each of the divisions, A and B and independent. These winners play for the title of "University Champs".

WINTER INTRAMURALS

Top to Bottom: Alpha Phi Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Independents.

THE most participated in of all the intramural sports is basketball. Not only are the independents represented by at least twenty teams, but each fraternity enters a Class A active team, Class B pledge team, and Class C team of "left-overs". The adoption of the C teams this year proved to be a success. Credit for this goes to Jack Reynolds, Senior Intramural Manager. Both good and bad basketball was represented by the teams but probably the most interesting games to the spectators were those played by Class C teams, which not infrequently resulted in brawls.

WOMEN'S WINTER

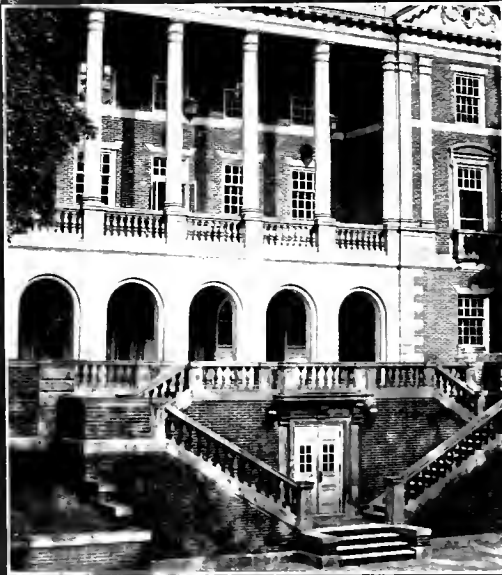

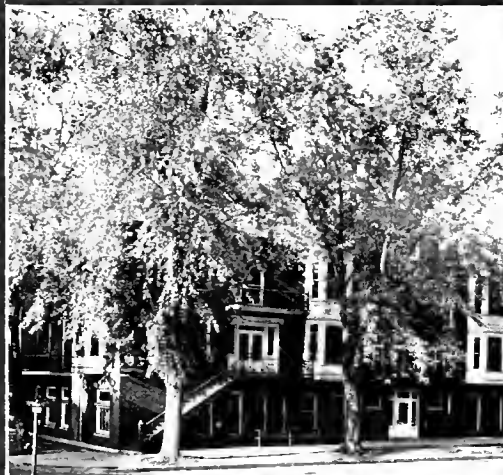

SATURDAY three times a week for the gals who are enrolled in the beginning, intermediate or advanced swimming classes at Ohio. Into the icy pool for an invigorating hour of instruction—spend the rest of the day recovering from the resemblance to a wet string — gripe about ruined waves and frozen noses — but think its grand, that's about the routine. The classes are always full, the instructors are tolerant and understanding and the progress in each class is creditable.

INTRAMURALS

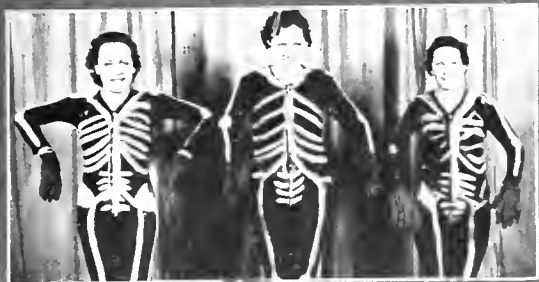

THE most enjoyable, though roughest sport in the curricula of the Women's Athletic Department, is Basketball. The class games are comparatively calm and quietly played, but the sorority intramural teams usually end their games in rowdy muddles, much to the delight of the spectators, and apparently to those concerned. The teams are played off against each other until the two surviving teams are played to decide the winners, who play for the title. Points toward the intramural cup are given for participation.

CAMPUS AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Control of all campus activities and selection of publication heads are among the functions of this executive committee. It is composed of the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, four representative faculty members, the Editor of the Green and White, President of the YWCA, President of the Men's Union, President of the Women's League, and two student members-at-large.

FIRST ROW: (left to right): Dean Voigt, Dean Johnson, Phillips, Lasher, Reynolds, Gaylord.
SECOND ROW: Robbin, McLean, White, Batten, Scheffel, Freeman.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES ADVISORY BOARD

The Campus Activities Advisory Board is an auxiliary body to the Men's Union officers. The Vice-President of the Men's Union is the chairman of the Board which consists of eight members. The members are selected by the Men's Union officers with the approval of the Men's Selection Board. The principal function of this group is the promotion of the annual Men's Rodeo.

MEN'S SELECTION BOARD

Campus officers, and aspirants to campus positions at Ohio University are chosen on the basis of their merits and not in accordance with any political system. The body of men who have the power to make these appointments is known as the Men's Selection Board, and consists of five senior men, one faculty member, and the Dean of Men.

WOMEN'S SELECTION BOARD

Dean Voigt heads the board which selects Ohio women for offices. She is assisted by one other faculty member and five senior women students. In the spring of each year the board meets and by means of University records and personal interviews, appoints office-holders for the coming year.

MEN'S UNION

In the choicest location in town live eighteen athletes and four campus leaders. The Men's Union, housing unit for these aforementioned individuals, is also the mail address of the three publications, the Independent League, Torch, and Blue Key. The cellar is the storeroom of the University Band.

Led by their three drum majors, the O. U. band was outstanding both at home and at out-of-town games. The annual band concert was its usual success due to the efforts of Professor Janssen. At the Band Dance, Shirley Watson was selected by students and members of the band as Band Sponsor for the coming year.

OHIO UNIVERSITY BAND

Again led by Professor Ingerham, the Ohio University Orchestra, composed of fifty members, was outstanding in this state. The activities of the ensemble this year have been characterized by versatility ranging from the serious to the light. Concerts have been given on Sunday evenings and at Convocation, where there has been a clamoring for encores.

The Ohio University Choir is under the direction of Dr. C. C. Robinson. Fifty students with the highest quality voices are chosen each year by competitive tests. This season, a concert was presented on the campus, and appearances were made by this highly trained group at Pomeroy, Columbus, Parkersburg, and Marietta. The appearances of the choir are made doubly effective by the black and white robes worn by all members.

VARSIITY QUARTET

After an absence of a year, the Varsity Quartet has again become an integral part of the Men's Glee Club. This group of blended voices has appeared at the Kiwanis Minstrels, the Drollities, the Wellston Rotary Club, and in the Glee Club Serenade for Mothers' Week-end. They have also successfully broadcast over WOSU, Columbus. They are to be a permanent feature of the Men's Glee Club.

MEN'S DEBATE

Under the direction of Mr. Staats, the Men's debate team carried a schedule of some twenty contests this year. An imposing list of opponents was lined up, including debate encounters with several Western Conference opponents, and a creditable record was made. The season began in early December.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

Ohio University Women debaters entered a total of sixteen contests during the season 1934-35. They also sent representatives to the state oratorical and interpretation contests, hoping to repeat last year's triumph, when Miss Florence Harper took first place in the state oratorical contest.

STUDIO CLUB

This club is the outstanding group of interpretive dancers in the Women's Athletic Department. Their interpretations of dances are sometimes misunderstood by those who do not understand the beauty and art of interpretive dancing, but both the groups who do understand and those who don't, enjoy watching the Spring Dance Drama and the other performances offered by this organization. Miss Alexander has charge of both the Junior Studio Club and Senior Studio Club.

PLAYSHOP

Ohio University maintains an up-to-the-minute Dramatic Department. Twenty one-act plays and four major Broadway productions are presented each year. In Playshop, a student may learn Make-up, Scene-building, Play-Directing, Stage Lighting and Acting. For this work the department has exclusive use of Ewing Stage and Auditorium and frequent use of Alumni Memorial Stage and Auditorium.

WESLEY FOUNDATION COUNCIL

The organization of the Wesley Foundation Council is international in scope. It acts under the direct supervision of the Methodist Board of Education. The local society is active in social work in and around Athens, and its membership is open to all students of Methodist preference at Ohio University.

JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEE

The Band, Isham Jones. The Time, March 29, 1935. The Place, Men's Gym, converted into a ballroom. The Head Men, Forrie Hopkins, and Kingie Merendino. The Stooges, outstanding juniors in the lineup above. Event, Ohio's Junior Prom. Success, ask those who attended. Who attended, everyone with a comp, or the necessary four-eighty.

HEAD MEN

We present the Head Men, Forest Hopkins, junior class prexy and campus big shot and his partner in the crime, Alvin Merendino, junior prom chairman and also c.b.s. The best publicity men Isham Jones ever had and responsible for the success of the biggest dance of the year. Quote from the c.b.s.'s: "We didn't try to make a profit. We barely met the expenses. However, if everyone had a good time, we're satisfied."

SENIOR BALL COMMITTEE

Here is another group of hard-working "stooges" who put on a dance that really was a large affair. Now that the Ball has become an annual event, it is the Senior's social farewell to the University. Credit goes to the Committee, William Thompson, who was Chairman of the Committee, and to Ralph Arnold, President of the Senior Class.

HEAD MEN

Head of the above "stooge" group—if you'll pardon the much overworked expression—goes to the two seniors here pictured, William Thompson, and Ralph Arnold. Both have been outstanding in campus affairs during their four years at Ohio, and this event, so smoothly put over (in more ways than one) was a fitting climax to their college careers and to the college life of their classmates.

OVER THE HURDLES

Elden Armbrust

WITH OHIO

THE Ohio track squad inaugurated the 1933-34 season with an 81½ to 49½ victory over Wesleyan at the Ohio stadium. Two new records were set for the Ohio stadium as Halleck bettered the old mark in the discus event, and Newcome jumped to a new distance in the broad-jump to better his own mark of 22 feet 1 inch. Miami's tracksters served first notice on Ohio that the Redskins were to be a powerful contender for the Buckeye crown when the Oxford school took the Green and White into camp by a 69-62 count. The distance runs and the field events were dominated by Ohio standard bearers, but Miami's brilliant showing in the sprints and jumps equalled the Ohio tallies; as a result, the meet hinged on the mile-relay which was won by Miami. The biggest upset of the year occurred in this meet when Gilmore, Ohio holder of the half-mile record was beaten by Cole, a Miami sophomore. In a night meet at Carson field Cincinnati, the Ohio trackmen completely submerged the representatives of Cincinnati University by taking first place in every event on the card except the broad-jump and the mile relay. Gene Broxon, who finished first in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, set a record in the

Ohio	81½	Ohio Wesleyan	49½
Ohio	62	Miami	69
Ohio	98½	Cincinnati	32½

century sprint when he covered the distance in ten seconds flat. The onslaughts of Paul Halleck felled the existing Carson Field for the shot-put and discus-throwing events. Newcome was high point man for Ohio in this meet when he tallied three second places and a first to lead the field in individual scorers. The final tally in this meet found Ohio with 98½ while Cincy was only able to ring up 32½. At the Buckeye track-meet, held at Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio was not capable of asserting enough power to retain its supremacy in the Buckeye Conference and as a result the color-bearers of Miami were crowned as the new track champions of the league. Bill Herbert's defending champs were a favorite to recapture this spring classic, but when the final points were counted the "Big Red" of Miami was some nine points better than the "Green and White" total of Ohio.

SIDE GLANCES AT OHIO

THE loss of many of the tracksters pictured here will make an extremely difficult problem for coach "Bill" Herbert this spring. Bill Westervelt clears the cross-bar with plenty to spare. De Stefano is not trying to catch that sphere, but trying to push it as far away as he possibly can. George May sends the javelin zooming off into space. Jimmy Gilmore former Buckeye half-mile champ practices his famous sprint finish. Zimmerman, middle-distance runner warms up prior to the start of a half-mile run. And there to one side is Gene Gordon, long-distance man, who works hard to clip off those precious seconds. The serious-faced gentlemen at the top are the Ohio tracksters intact.

WITH his seven league stride, Holden, long distance runner, is rounding the curve on the last lap. A record jump is seen here by Newcome. "Bernie" holds two Ohio records. Into the air goes the discus as George Johnson places again. George never failed to garner points for the Green and White squad. Caught just as he was ready to pass the baton, Wafffen is making a fine finish. Broxon, after a slow start this season came into his own in the closing meet with Cincinnati. Crossing the tape is the 440 dash man, Panker. "Snapped" in good action but poor form, Halleck is putting the shot. Paul has annexed "firsts" in every meet.

BASEBALL

*A*LMOST insurmountable handicaps faced Coach Don Peden from the beginning of the 1934 baseball season until the end. Incessant rain held the number of practices to a minimum and caused the postponement of the first game. Even with this bad start, Ohio came through to win ten out of fifteen games, and placing second in the Buckeye with a record of five wins and three losses. Wolfe, Galabow, and Londrigan (until injured) were a trio nearly invincible to opposing batters, who were able to get but few hits from their offerings. Burke, in left field, combined the excellent qualities of good fielding and a high batting average. In the infield, Rapp and Lassman formed an excellent team on short and second respectively. At third, Burnison and Siegel alternated, both playing air-tight ball. On first, Schriber performed in great style, and was a pinch hitter of the first water. In the center garden was Nelson, while in right field was Schmidt. The Green and White nine broke even in a four-game series with a strong Illinois team.

LASSMAN SHOWS CORRECT FORM

Ohio State was the next team to be met and due to a big eighth inning Ohio emerged winner by a five to two count. At Marshall the Big Green team handed Ohio an eight to seven defeat in ten innings. With Wolfe hurling fine ball, Ohio crushed Marietta under foot ten to two. On the trip to the south-western part of the state, the O. U. team broke even in games losing to Miami five to four and dropping Cincinnati by the score of nine to four. Wesleyan was defeated by a ninth-inning rally of the fighting Ohio team.

SEASON'S RESULTS

FOR SWATTING AN OUT

THE OHIO NINE

IN the corner, "Vern" Wolfe, outstanding pitcher in the conference. A double-play, Lassman to Rapp to Schriber (the invisible man). Bartell catches one on the run. Siegel rounds third as a hit pierces the infield. Nelson pins him at home as the winning run is halted. Bartell knocks a "fly" deep into center field and watches his chances for more bases. Schriber gets there too late, and makes it the third out. Wills slides into third and the ball is lost so whether he is safe or not we cannot tell. The smiling group gracing the top of the page represents the Ohio nine — they always came through despite the fact that at most of the home games the stands were jammed with approximately twenty people.

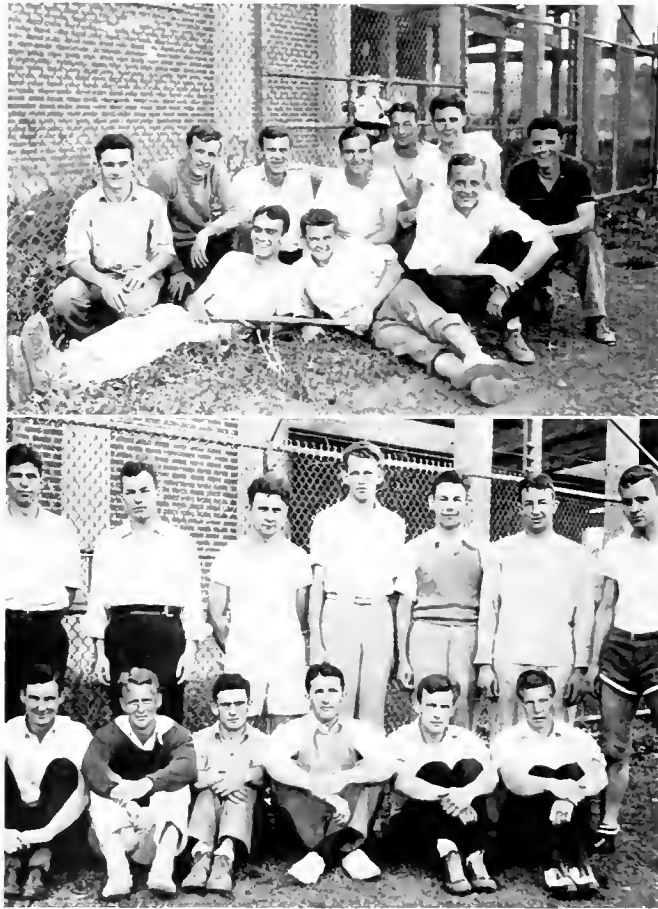

ON THE DIAMOND

TOP right are Schmidt, bunting a safe one down the first base line, while Cameron, behind the plate, waits with ready hands for the plunk of the ball, and Galabow, who puts his knuckle ball in there for a strike. Bartell races to first to arrive too late to be safe against the Miami Redskins. Wills is ready to hit one out of the lot as he generally did. Rapp is content to stop at first on his parade around the bases. Siegel tags an out. Galabow on an overthrow gets safely home. Lassman takes a mean cut at the ball but fails to connect. In the right corner, Londrigan throws his fast ball, demonstrating how he fooled many of his opponents. The top group, the "ole faithfuls", the managers.

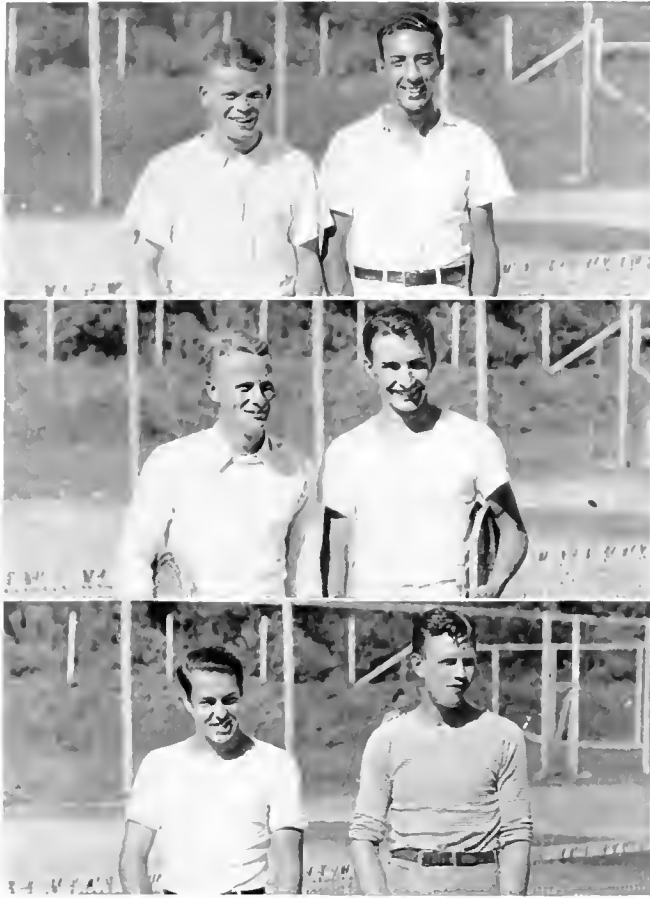

MEN'S SPRING

Top and Bottom: Delta Tau Delta.

UNDER the leadership of W. J. Trautwein, intramurals at Ohio have had a decided advancement. In the spring, softball is one of the major sports of the program. There are A, B, and independent groups, and the winners of these play for the title, "University Champs." Track is also a spring sport and is a highlight on the intramural program. All fraternities and a large number of independent teams are entered. The records set by the intramural men compare favorably with the better scholastic marks.

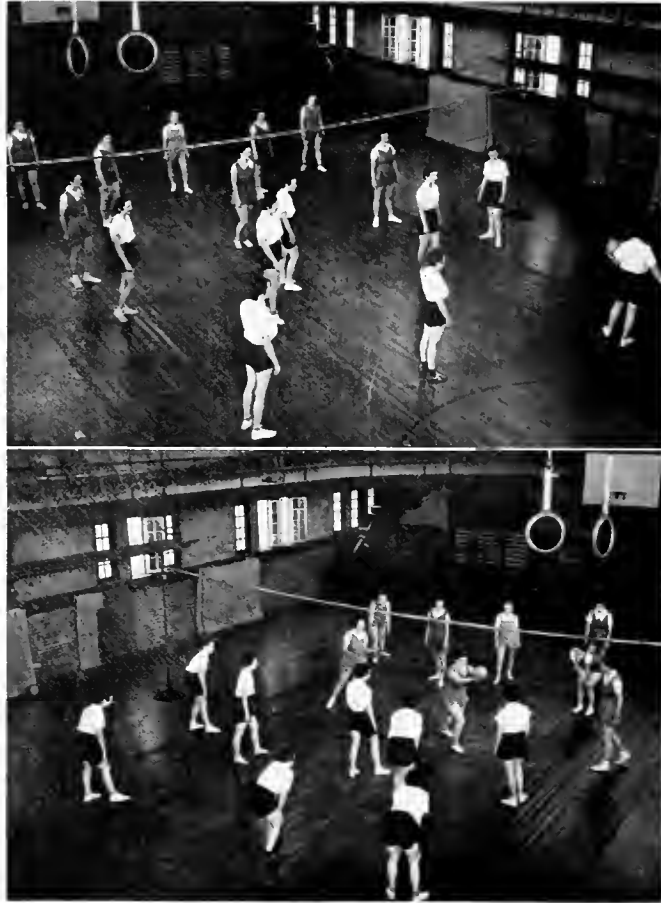

INTRAMURALS

Top to Bottom: Independents, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Pi.

WHEN tennis was abandoned at Ohio as a Varsity sport, intramural tennis immediately came into being as a prominent activity. The fraternities and the independents have their tourneys. The winners of these meet and the University champs are crowned. There are two divisions in the fraternity groups—active as A, and pledge as B. The independents compete in the same tourney. Intramural tennis has been of a very high nature for the past three years.

WOMEN'S SPRING

*W*OMEN'S spring class sports and intramurals include among other things, track and field work, baseball and volleyball. Until the track becomes dry enough to hold regular track and field activities, and until the field becomes dry enough for baseball, the gym classes and intramural participants engage in volleyball. This sport takes no special or outstanding skill to play, affords considerable enjoyment and therefore, is one of the most popular of all the events offered on the women's intramural calendar.

INTRAMURALS

*A*LLEGED by those who should know, tumbling is an excellent beauty treatment for the straightening of curves which go the wrong way, and for shoulders which refuse to stay level. After watching a gym class in this sport go through its gyrations, we are firmly convinced that only the bravest of the brave would dare enter it, even for the sake of beauty. The class, however, went through its paces quickly and easily. They performed individually and in groups. The groups built pyramids that would put Zoser to shame—as you can see for yourself in the snaps above.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS OF THE SENIOR CLASS

ALFRED CRAFT, Green and White financier and Phi Diddle Diddle prexy. Becomes disturbed when hailed, "Al Graft".

KATHERINE BEVERSTOCK, Monarch of Lindley Hall. Phi Beta Kappa, a string of activities, and wears the Pi Phi arrow.

ROBERT FREEMAN, Torch and Blue Key President, belongs to everything on the campus including the Ox club.

JAMES POWELL, "Father of the Ohioan", all the honoraries, the ruling hand of Delta Tau, and has his own "Porter".

MARY NIEDERAUER, Red-haired pride of Alpha Delt and the Home Ec Department. Belongs to this and that and is a swell gal.

HARRY FIETCHER, Shining light of Phi Kappa and Alpha Gam. One of the loud voices in the Men's Union and campus honoraries.

EUGENE BATTEN, A really "Big Man on Campus". President of Men's Union, ex-Athena Editor, and wears the Delt square.

BEULAH SCHEFFEL, Better known as "Larry". Grand personality. Probably most outstanding independent.

JOHN McCLEAN, Monarchical tyrant of the Green and White. Has a Chi O heart interest and goes to meetings at the Phi Tau house.

RALPH ARNOLD, Forensic man who talked his way into Senior Class Presidency. Such vociferousness must be acknowledged.

DOROTHY ROBBIN, Co-ed boss of the campus. Will soon enter Johns Hopkins. Claimed by Alpha Xi Delta.

MARTHA WHITE, Dictator of Y.W.C.A., Dean Voigt's "right-hand-man", President of Cresset, and wears the quill of Alpha Xi.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS OF THE JUNIOR CLASS

BERT CAMERON. Versatile leader of the Betas. Possessor of a handsome physiognamy and a bass voice. Says, "The world is but a stage and all the women play for me."

MARY LOU HUDSON. Chi O activity woman who hails from Nelsonville. Most efficient "stooge" on the campus. Has an unusual sense of humor.

ALVIN MERENDINO. Sprang into prominence as Prom Chairman. Pre-med student with a Phi Beta average. Wears the Beta stars.

ROBERT HARTFORD. Athena stooge who knows all the low-down on the high-ups. Perpetually grading freshmen themes. Is a Delta Tau.

ROBERTA THULLEN. Alpha Xi lovely who presides at meetings. Majors in Home Economics and Willison Beebe.

FOREST HOPKINS. Truly outstanding personality. "Father of the Class of '36". Another D.T.D.

FRED HOPKINS. Managed to put out a high-rating Annual in spite of Lawrence. Keeps the Delt books out of the "red".

MARTY LAWRENCE. Managed to put out a high-rating Annual in spite of Hopkins. Belongs to Chi O, and a few other things.

GEORGE DeSTEFANO. causes co-ed hearts to flutter when a Buckeye guard fails to "handle with care". Alpha Phi Delta.

PHYLLIS TELLER. Prominent independent. Edits the "Co-Editor" and has nerve enough to apply for Green and White editorship.

LOIS SPLITTORF. Wields the Pi Phi Gavel, hails from Cleveland, and is seen places with Glenn Gourley, Delt.

JOHN REYNOLDS. Well-known Theta Chi triple-threat man—grumble, stumble, and tumble.

Dear Mr. Hopkins:

Although I know of nothing that would make me eligible to serve as judge in a beauty contest, if you wish I shall do so.

Those contacts you think I have made with beautiful women have been few and far between, and those I have met have made me even dizzier.

I appreciate the honor that you are extending me and shall try faithfully to pick the outstanding six. Send me the photographs when you are ready and I shall do the rest.

Sincerely, yours,

What would spring be without the soul-sick seen-togethers wandering about the campus and the Asylum grounds? It's as natural as the sequence of the seasons - spring comes and Romance rears its ugly head around Ohio U.

Here they are, brought out into the open at last. On their hard working, seldom-recognized-but-their-true-worth-stages. They deserve a vote of thanks from the student body for their untiring efforts, so, how's-about-it?

PROGRESS

There are few fields where the necessity for progress—the demand for new ideas, is as pronounced as in the production of School Annuals. ☉ Here in Canton we take pride in not only keeping pace, but in setting the pace for innovations and changes in this highly progressive field. ☉ When you work with Canton you are hand in hand with experienced people, constantly on the alert to sense the wants of Annual publishers, and quick to change from the old order, and offer new and unusual ideas to progressive editors.

THE new G-E Monitor Top model is the finest refrigerator General Electric ever built. Brilliantly beautiful in appearance, its distinguished styling, new features and new refinements will add a modern note to your kitchen. The famous Monitor Top mechanism is built to endure far beyond the service expectancy of ordinary refrigerators. Sealed in ageless steel, safe from dirt, dust and moisture, it requires no attention, not even oiling.

It freezes more ice faster, uses less current, provides more usable storage space, and is equipped with every modern convenience feature.

With a performance record that is unmatched by any refrigerator, the General Electric is universally recognized as the standard of excellence — and lowest in ultimate cost.

Lovely to Look At

Year after year there roll through our many presses the interesting records of countless college lives as portrayed in annuals such as this beautiful ATHENA.

This ATHENA must out-live all contemporary publications. Preserved for the eyes of your children and grandchildren, it should and does embody the highest form of printing craftsmanship of its day.

When you look at your ATHENA throughout your life, it will have a fascination not only for the memories it revives, but because its artistic execution has earned this ATHENA long life as a thing of beauty. . . A part of that enduring quality is the careful and talented attention given to its production by a company noted for nearly half a century for fine printing.

We Thank You—

PHIL LINNE, of the Canton Engraving Company, for doing such a splendid job of servicing the 1935 Athena. We appreciate the way you cooperated with us, the way you handled every part of the book, and your many helpful suggestions and ideas.

RALPH HITCHCOCK, of the Canton Engraving Company, for your layout-idea contributions. They were truly outstanding, and we would have been utterly lost without them.

LESTER KISABETH, of the Gray Printing Company, for producing the Athena exactly as it was planned, and for tolerating so patiently our errors and delays.

ALVIN LAMBORN, because you handled a tremendous task and maintained as usual the name that has stood for quality photographs to the students of Ohio University for more than thirteen years.

CLARK WILLIAMS, because you have had confidence in us and have carefully supervised the work both from editorial and financial angles.

PROFESSOR BECKERT, for taking a personal interest in the Athena, for your supervision of the financial end of the work, and for helping us out when we needed you most.

PROFESSOR MACKINNON, because you were a helpful advisor and a wise counselor, and because you were such a good sport about everything.

JAWN BOYD, for your fine drawing of Dr. Bryan, and for your suggestions and work on the advertising section.

JOHN McLEAN, because you put the Athena before the student body by giving it space in the Green and White.

DOROTHY LAWREY, for your excellent cooperation and work as Art Editor.

THE STAFFS, because without you there could not have been a yearbook. Your tireless energy, unceasing efforts and good work are deeply appreciated.

THE STUDENT BODY, because you have given the Athena life by cooperating with its Editor and Business Manager, and because you are supporting both the Athena and the University by buying the yearbook.
